++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunshine and showers, cold and clear overnight.

Today:
A cold, bright start for many with showers developing across East Anglia during the morning. Showers may turn heavy at times during the afternoon, however staying mainly clear and sunny further west with only light showers. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
The showers will steadily die away during the evening to leave a cold, dry night across the region. Frosty by dawn with some fog patches possible in prone locations. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Saturday:
Similar to Friday with showers forming during the morning, although mainly towards the west. Clear skies and plenty of sunshine further east. Showers easing quickly around dusk. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Showers on Sunday again. Bright on Monday at first, but turning cloudier with widespread rain and strong winds. Improving overnight with intermittent rain by Tuesday, sunny spells and lighter winds.
